 Due to an increase in the number of pupils that need a place at the school, there is a need to increase the available teaching space. The natures of the pupil needs and teaching methods have changed over the years resulting in smaller group sizes, therefore generating a need to provide more space per pupil. Their learning disabilities and the specialised facilities provided at Northgate make it desirable for these pupils to attend this particular school.

It is envisaged that this will be a short term blip in the number of pupils needing to attend this particular school. However if this proves not to be the case, a feasibility study will need to be carried out with a view to providing permanent accommodation within the school buildings.
