

EXTENSION & ALTERATIONS

Rockingham Primary School, Corby

PLANNING SUPPORTING STATEMENT

The scale of the development is too small to relate directly to policies in the development plan, SPDs or development briefs.

The building to be demolished was a toilet block which was subsequently converted for use as the school office and reprographic room. These facilities are better located more centrally within the school building. A suitable space has been identified where they will be relocated.

The new extension comprises a self-contained unit capable of being open all year round. It will provide space for an appointed Parent and School Advisor and will be a working space for family groups, amongst others.

The proposed facilities will enable the school to provide Extended Services in accordance with government and County policies for schools.

Consultation has taken place with parents.
